STATEMENT UNDER 37 CFR § 1.705(b)(2)

Mail Stop Issue Fee
Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Dear Sir:

This statement is respectfully submitted in support of the “Application for Patent Term Adjustment Including Request for Reconsideration Under 37 CFR § 1.705(b)” for the above-referenced patent application. In view of the following, it is respectfully requested that Applicants be granted a minimum patent term adjustment of 864 days, which may be extended or reduced based on the actual date of issuance of a patent from the above-referenced application.

The patent term adjustment on the Determination of Patent Term Adjustment Under 35 U.S.C. §154(b) that was attached to the Notice of Allowance (submitted herewith as Exhibit A) is 0 days. That determination projected that the patent would issue on the Tuesday before the date that is 28 weeks after April 17, 2009, the mailing date of that notice (i.e., October 27, 2009). A copy of the Office’s calculation of 0 days, printed from PAIR, is submitted herewith as Exhibit B.

This determination of 0 days is in error for the following reasons: (1) the PTO’s miscalculation of the 4 Month Delay incurred by the Office in its Non-final Office Action mailed on April 17, 2007; and (2) the miscalculation of overlap of the delays under 37 CFR §§ 1.702(a) and 1.703(a) and the delays under 37 CFR §§ 1.702(b) and 1.703(b). See Wyeth v. Dudas, 88 U.S.Q.P. 2d 1538 (D.D.C. 2008).

A. 14 Month Delay and 4 Month Delay under 37 CFR §§ 1.702(a) and 1.703(a)

1. 14 Month Delay

Applicants are entitled to a period of patent term adjustment pursuant to 37 CFR §§ 1.702(a)(1) and 1.703(a)(1) (“14 Month Delay”). Applicants agree with the Office’s calculation shown in Exhibit B that the 14 Month Delay is 101 days. Because the Office failed to mail an action under 35 U.S.C. §132 until July 20, 2005, Applicants are entitled to a period of patent term adjustment beginning on the day after the date that is 14 months after the date on which the above-referenced application was filed under 35 U.S.C. §111(a), i.e., February 11, 2004, and ending on the date of mailing of an action under 35 U.S.C. §132, i.e., July 20, 2005, or 101 days.

2. 4 Month Delay

Applicants are entitled to a period of patent term adjustment pursuant to 37 CFR §§ 1.702(a)(2) and 1.703(a)(2) (“4 Month Delay”). Applicants disagree with the Office’s calculation shown in Exhibit B that the 4 Month Delay is 0 days. Applicants respectfully submit that the correct 4 Month Delay is 332 days. The relevant facts are as follows:

1. On January 20, 2006, Applicants filed a reply under 37 CFR § 1.111 including a response to restriction requirement.
2. On September 19, 2006, the Office mailed a notice to comply with requirements for patent applications containing nucleotide sequence and/or amino acid sequence disclosures.
3. On March 15, 2007, Applicants filed a response to the notice to comply with requirements for patent applications containing nucleotide sequence and/or amino acid sequence disclosures.
4. On April 17, 2007, the Office mailed a non-final office action in response to the January 20, 2006 response to restriction requirement. See Exhibit C (cover page and office action summary from April 17, 2007)

In its PTA calculation, the Office mistakenly assumed that the April 17, 2007 office action was in response to Applicants' March 15, 2007 response to the notice to comply, and thus calculated the 4 Month Delay as 0 days. Instead, Applicants are entitled to a period of patent term adjustment of 332 days due to the failure by the Office to mail an action under 35 U.S.C. §132 not later than four months after the date of Applicants' reply under 37 CFR § 1.111 of January 20, 2006 (i.e., May 20, 2006). Because the Office failed to mail an action under 35 U.S.C. §132 until April 17, 2007, Applicants are entitled to a period of patent term adjustment beginning on the day after the date that is four months after the date a reply under 37 CFR § 1.111 was filed (i.e., January 21, 2006) and ending on the date of mailing of an action under 35 U.S.C. §132 (i.e., April 17, 2007) or 332 days.

Accordingly, the total period of patent term adjustment under 37 CFR §§ 1.702(a) and 1.703(a) is 101 days of 14 Month Delay plus 332 days of 4 Month Delay for a total of 433 days.

B. 3 Year Delay under 37 CFR §§ 1.702(b) and 1.703(b)

Applicants are entitled to a period of patent term adjustment pursuant to 37 CFR §§ 1.702(b) and 1.703(b) due to examination delay equal to the number of days in the period beginning on the day after the date that is three years after February 10, 2004, when the above-referenced application was filed under 35 U.S.C. §111(a) (i.e., February 11, 2007) and ending on the date a patent is issued, not including several categories of exceptions stated in 35 U.S.C. § 254(b)(1)(B)(i)-(iii) ("3 Year Delay"). Applicants agree with the Office's calculation shown in Exhibit B that the 3 Year Delay is 990 days, based on a projected issue date of October 27, 2009.

C. Exclusion of Overlapping Delay under 37 CFR § 1.703(f)

Applicants are not entitled to a period of patent term adjustment to the extent that the periods in 37 CFR § 1.702 (i.e., the 14 Month Delay, the 4 Month Delay and the 3 Year Delay) overlap pursuant to 37 CFR §1.703(f) ("Overlapping Delay"). Applicants disagree with the Office's calculation of Overlapping Delay of 101 days. As the period of 4 Month Delay ended on April 17, 2007, and the 3 Year Delay began February 11, 2007, Applicants submit that these periods overlap by 66 days. See Wyeth v. Dudas, 88 U.S.P.Q. 2d at 1541. To calculate the period of patent term adjustment, the total period of examination delay is thus to be reduced by the sum of the period of overlap, i.e., 66 days.

D. Exclusion of Applicant Delay under 37 CFR §§ 1.703(f) and 1.704

Applicants are not entitled to a period of patent term adjustment to the extent that they failed to engage in reasonable efforts to conclude prosecution of the application pursuant to 37 CFR §§ 1.703(f) and 1.704 (“Applicant Delay”).

Applicants agree with the Office’s calculation shown in Exhibit B that the Applicant Delay is 92 days with respect to the response filed by Applicants on January 20, 2006. The Applicant Delay is the number of days beginning on the day after the date that is three months after the date of mailing of the July 20, 2005 Office Action (i.e., October 21, 2005) and ending on the date the reply was filed (i.e., January 20, 2006), which is 92 days.

Applicants agree with the Office’s calculation shown in Exhibit B that the Applicant Delay is 158 days with respect to the Response filed June 27, 2006. Applicants’ response filed on January 20, 2006 to the Office Action mailed July 20, 2005 was deemed by the Office to be non-compliant. Applicants therefore incurred further Applicant delay beginning on the day after the non-compliant reply was filed (i.e., January 21, 2006) and ending on the day that Applicants filed a compliant response to the Office Action mailed July 20, 2005 (i.e., June 27, 2006), which is 158 days.

Applicants agree with the Office’s calculation shown in Exhibit B that the Applicant Delay is 86 days with respect to the response filed by Applicants on March 15, 2007. The Applicant Delay is the number of days beginning on the day after the date that is three months after the date of mailing of the September 19, 2006 Office communication (i.e., December 20, 2006) and ending on the day the reply was filed (i.e., March 15, 2007), which is 86 days.

Applicants agree with the Office’s calculation shown in Exhibit B that the Applicant Delay is 87 days with respect to the response filed by Applicants on October 12, 2007. The Applicant Delay is the number of days beginning on the day after the date that is three months after the date of mailing of the April 17, 2007 Office Action (i.e., July 18, 2007) and ending on the day the reply was filed (i.e., October 12, 2007), which is 87 days.

Applicants agree with the Office’s calculation shown in Exhibit B that the Applicant Delay is 50 days with respect to the response filed by Applicants on May 28, 2008. The Applicant Delay is the number of days beginning on the day after the date that is three months after the date of mailing of the January 8, 2008 Office Action (i.e., April 9, 2008) and ending on the day the reply was filed (i.e., May 28, 2008), which is 50 days.

Applicants disagree with the Office's failure to calculate any delay with respect to the amendment filed by Applicants pursuant to 37 C.F.R. § 1.312 on May 1, 2009. The Applicant Delay is the number of days beginning on the day that the amendment was filed (i.e., May 1, 2009) and ending on the mailing date of the Office response to the amendment (i.e., May 20, 2009), which is 20 days.

Accordingly, the total period of Applicant Delay under 37 CFR §§ 1.703(f) and 1.704 is 493 days.

E. Total Patent Term Adjustment

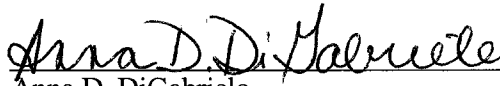

Pursuant to 37 CFR § 1.703(f), the total patent term adjustment is 433 days of 14 Month Delay and 4 Month Delay, plus 990 days of 3 Year Delay, minus 66 days of Overlapping Delay, minus 493 days of Applicant Delay, for a total of 864 days.

F. Conclusion

In view of the foregoing, it is respectfully requested that this Application for Patent Term Adjustment be favorably considered and that a corrected Determination of Patent Term Adjustment be issued to reflect a patent term adjustment of 864 days, which may be extended or reduced based on the actual date of issuance of a patent for the above-referenced application.
